Help Joey Stay Cool

Joey is like a lot of bachelors. He loves flashing a sweet and contagious smile your way, rocking out to loud music, and looking at cars. And now, at age 50, he's finally ready to move into his very own bachelor pad.

For the past twenty years, Rauch has helped Joey enjoy fun and meaningful days as a participant in our Adult Developmental Activities program. Five days a week, he has ridden TARC to our Fairmont Neighborhood Center and joined his many friends in fun activities and outings, socializing, and learning skills. Recently, Joey has been adjusting to some new wheels – his first motorized wheelchair.

Now, Joey is anxious and excited about embarking on a different adventure with Rauch. He will be moving into one of the next four homes currently under construction in our Hawthorn Glen supported living community. He's having a bit of trouble deciding what to pack, though – his mother Judy says he wants to take everything in the house with him. As a resident at Hawthorn Glen, living with two long-time friends from Rauch, Joey's family will be assured that he is safe, loved, and happy.

One of the amenities Joey will be able to enjoy at Hawthorn Glen is the ability to beat the heat in a fully accessible swimming pool. The pool features a ramp for use with a pool wheelchair, benches on which to rest and relax, and a safe water depth. It's a rare and liberating treat for Joey, who has limited mobility resulting from cerebral palsy.

The pool is undergoing some final finishing touches before its grand opening and we want to be ready for everyone, including Joey. In addition to Rauch's need for contributions to support ongoing operations of programs and maintenance of facilities, funds are needed to fully equip the pool with safety equipment, fun amenities, and that very important water-safe pool wheelchair for use by Joey and other residents.

P.S. Thanks to people like you, Rauch was there 20 years ago when Joey and his parents sought meaningful programs and activities. Because of you, we are celebrating our 60th year of service this year. Please help us continue to be available to individuals with disabilities and their families for another 60 years by making a tax-deductible contribution today.

We need your help.
We have raised 44%
of our $11,000 goal.

Please consider donating today to help ensure the best summer ever for Rauch's clients, to assist with the replacement of the roof at Rauch on Spring (see page 2) and to support Rauch's ability to meet the needs of over 1,000 children and adults with developmental and other disabilities each year in your community.

A contribution envelope is included with this newsletter; you can also donate securely online at www.rauchinc.org or by calling 812-981-4411.

IT'S A FACT:

In June 2013, Rauch Industries clients packed 143,220 salt for our friends at American Beverage Marketers.

Horseshoe Foundation of Floyd County Awards Grant for New Roof & Gutters

Rauch is very grateful for the generosity of the Horseshoe Foundation, who recently awarded a grant of $20,000 to assist in replacing the roof, fascia, and gutters at Rauch on Spring, located at 215 E. Spring Street in downtown New Albany. This building is currently home to Rauch's Employment and Interpreting Services programs and is adjacent to the Carnegie Center for Art and History. The new roof will make the facility more attractive and structurally sound for the vital programming based in the building, and will also help Rauch do its part in cleaning up and enhancing New Albany's downtown district. The $7,000 in additional dollars needed to complete this project are part of Rauch's Summer Fundraising Campaign goal. To make a donation to assist, please use the enclosed envelope or contact Teressa Jackson at 812-981-4410.

The Lucas Oil Golf Scramble is August 26

The Lucas Oil Golf Scramble benefiting Rauch, Inc. is fast approaching! Join us Monday, August 26th, for an exciting day of playing golf and supporting our mission.

This year is Rauch's 60th year of service to Southern Indiana; in honor of that milestone, this year's golf scramble will have a birthday theme! Men will have the opportunity to don a birthday hat (instead of a grass skirt) for a 100 yard teeing advantage at one of the holes. Brown-Forman Corporation has created a special birthday cocktail to be served on the course. And as it turns out, the golf scramble falls on the same day as Rauch CEO Bettye Dunham's birthday, so there will be a special surprise on the course in her honor. Other highlights on the course include a $10,000 cash hole in one contest, putting contest, longest putt, closest to pin, and beat the pro. And, what's a birthday party without a cake? Players will enjoy a steak dinner with delicious sides and birthday cake for dessert at the awards presentation following play. Door prize winners and the 50/50 raffle will be drawn during dinner.

Wack Attack!

On June 5th, Denise Taylor with We GET To and her many cheery volunteers visited Rauch Industries and Rauch's Fairmont Neighborhood Center for a "Wack Attack." Rauch program participants and staff enjoyed the cheer they brought into our day. They made such an impact, the wackiness continued the rest of the week with many continuing to don the wacky accessories they received.

The "Wack Attack" was an extension of Wacky Wednesday, a program developed to bring silliness and laughter to patients and families in children's hospitals.

Thank you We GET To for brightening our day!

In Bloom

Our homes at Hawthorn Glen recently got a splash of color. Supported Living Program Manager Terry Brown, who has a background in horticulture, led residents and staff in sprucing up the property by planting some annuals. Everyone had a great time learning about gardening and now are enjoying watching their flowers grow and bloom.

Celebrating Deaf Awareness Month

September is Deaf Awareness Month, and Rauch Interpreting Services has a hilarious grand finale planned! Join us Friday, September 27, 2013, when we bring comedian Keith Wann, one of the most highly regarded interpreters in the country, to Louisville.

Wann, one of the most sought after and beloved performers in the American Sign Language (ASL) community, has become an industry and cultural household name. Combining side splitting humor with heartfelt real life stories from his CODA (Child of Deaf Adults) childhood and teenage life has become his comedic trademark among deaf and CODA society. Respected in the industry as a deaf needs advocate, Keith has reached across the cultural divide between deaf and hearing worlds through humor to bridge misconceptions and cultural gaps.

Tickets are $15 each and are available at 812-542-3080 (voice) or www.rauchinterpreting.com. You can also purchase tickets in person at the Interpreting Services offices located at 215 E. Spring Street in New Albany.

A Summer of Discovery

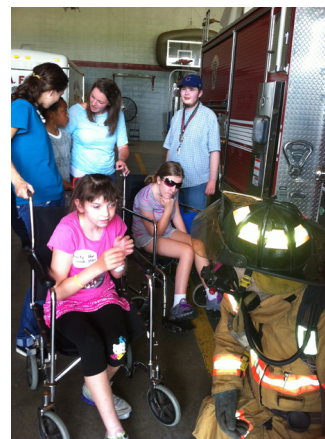

For many kids, summer is filled with fun times at amusement and water parks, camping with friends and family, or going away to summer camp. For many youth with developmental disabilities, though, summer can be a lonely time when they are at risk of losing important educational gains.

With the generosity of the Indiana Department of Child Services, Dr. Al Knable of Associates in Dermatology, and other individuals and local businesses, Rauch offers six weeks of discovery, learning, and time to just be a kid for children with disabilities. The Rauch Developmental Kids Summer Respite Camp serves youth ages 9-17 with developmental disabilities while providing valuable respite for parents and caregivers. It also helps kids retain and enhance skills learned in school, making returning to their studies in the fall go much more smoothly.

Field trips included the Louisville Zoo, bowling, the 4-H Fair, Tommy Sheet's Quarter Horses, and many more locales.

We would like to thank all of the businesses that hosted the summer camp for a trip and the donors that made all those smiles possible.

A Day of Action & Celebration

Metro United Way encouraged Southern Indiana to make a difference in a Day of Action across the area held June 21. With the generous help of volunteers from Bowles Mattress Company and Falls Cities SERTOMA Club, Rauch clients and staff celebrated the agency's 60th Birthday! Partiers enjoyed a giant birthday cake, hamburgers (generously donated by Bowles Mattress), face painting, temporary tattoos, a photo booth with props, Nerf target shooting, and soccer ball bowling. It was a very special day. Everyone had a GREAT time!
